1. Between 9 a.m. and 3 p.m. on 17 November 1953, the following aircraft were observed at Wiener Neustadt (O 48/X 34) airfield: 1 biplane, 3 Yak-11s and 42 MiG-15s not including the aircraft possibly parked in the depression near the pyrotechnic plant. There was a 5/10 overcast, partly sunny weather, a westerly wind of about 8 km/h, and a ceiling at about 1,500 meters. No air activity was observed. The flight control station was guarded by sentries wearing black-bordered blue epaulets. Trucks [redacted] with drivers wearing black-bordered blue epaulets were observed at the entrance to the field. No change was observed on the status of the cone-shaped antenna with a disk on the antenna mast. This antenna mast did not project beyond the other masts of weather sets located nearby. At the small cone-shaped antenna near the eastern garage, [redacted] s device, probably a lead-in extended from a rigidly fixed knob below the base of the pyramid. A van-like truck was parked at the foot of the small cone-shaped antenna. Four trucks and 5 Stalin-type tractors were observed in the garages. A board fence recently obstructed the view to the southern section of the installation.

2. A biplane was parked in front of the hangar at Theresienfeld airfield. An Il-28 without rudder assembly was observed in the hangar which apparently was not high and large enough for the Il-28; a section of about 50 centimeters of the aircraft projected beyond the front door of the hangar. Many officers and EM stood around the aircraft.

3. The Nachrichten Kaserne at Wiener Neustadt military post was guarded by soldiers wearing black-bordered blue epaulets. Five trucks and 3 van-like trucks were parked in the barracks yard and truck [redacted] with driver wearing black-bordered blue epaulets left the installation. Sentries wearing black-bordered blue epaulets were also posted at the Artillerie Kaserne. A van-like truck, 2 jeeps and 3 trucks were parked in the barracks yard and the following motor vehicles moved into the barracks installation: truck [redacted] van-like truck [redacted] both with drivers wearing black-bordered blue epaulets [redacted] coming from the direction of the Wiener Neustadt cantonment. No change was observed on the status of the two small van-like trucks each with two rod antennas and the small cone-shaped antenna with a disk on top of the 8-meter-high mast. The latter antenna system also had a device, probably a lead-in, similar to the antenna system near the eastern garage.
